

Quaker Religious Education Collaborative

Joining Hands in Service to Quaker Religious Education

Join us for a weekend of vibrant sharing about how we do our work as Quaker religious educators.

The Quaker RE Collaborative (QREC) invites you to join our growing community of practice at Pendle Hill this August as we:

- Think together beyond traditional forms and structures for religious education;
- Share ways to welcome and enfold families in meeting;
- Preview RE resources;
- Explore new ways to be together throughout the year.

The weekend will include worship, plenaries, workshops, interest groups, fellowship and a celebration.

One intention of this gathering is to model multigenerational community.

Thanks to a generous grant from the Obadiah Brown Benevolent Fund, we are able to offer childcare and cover the total registration costs of a limited number of children. Please register early for this opportunity.
